

Alternative Dispute Resolution Ethical Issues

Is there an ethical obligation or is it just good practice for attorneys to advise their clients of the possibilities for settlement and resolution of disputes through mediation or other ADR process?